eco chic design

With so many ecoconscious artisans and manufacturers using renewable and recycled materials, green design is becoming more mainstream. Modern design aesthetics aligned with strong environmental values make for some fabulous furnishings, indeed. Choose your furniture wisely, friends, because "the chic shall inherit the earth."

THINK OUTSIDE THE BOX

Industrial designer Jeff Beene constructed the Bar Stool and Davis Italic Chair out of approximately 60 alternating horizontal/vertical layers of corrugated cardboard. The surface texture, which is similar to suede, is surprisingly pleasing to the touch. The sturdy pieces are made with a minimum of 30-percent recycled fiber, making them a truly ecofriendly addition to any modern home. ($431.25, $525, cardboardchair.com)
